Are you looking for a challenging opportunity to use your technical skills in a dynamic environment? Join the team to support the delivery of the Ministry's long range plans in the protection of highway corridors through monitoring of highway activities including subdivision, developments, utility installations, land dispositions and road closure bylaws.

Reporting to the District Operations Manager, you will ensure development activities comply with provincial legislation and department policy through determining set-back requirements, considering access management along provincial highways, outlining conditions of permits, and representing the Ministry's position surrounding the protection of provincial highway corridors in meetings and quasi-judicial board hearings.

In this role, you will draw on your effective communication, negotiation, and interpersonal skills when collaborating with various stakeholders/clients such as landowners, commercial business operators, developers, urban and rural municipal governments, contractors, and local Subdivision and Development Appeal Boards. As a Development and Planning Technologist, you will use your exceptional writing skills when preparing reports and correspondences related to land developments, land dispositions, road lease cancellations, and highway signage.

Don't hesitate. Come join our team!
The position is located in Athabasca.

Salary: $2,595.71 - $3,408.45 bi-weekly ($67,748 - $88,961 annually). Closing Date: September 18, 2017. Job ID #1044656

Qualifications: A related Technical Diploma preferably in Civil Engineering, plus 6 years of related experience in road side development and permitting. Related experience in planning and experience working with provincial legislation related to roadside development and control is an asset. Experience with township range road systems, sub-divisions, area structure plans, traffic impact assessments and conducting public presentations is also an asset. Experience with MS Office products is required.

Equivalencies will be considered on the basis of one year of education for one year of experience; or one year of experience for one year of education.
